

Accessing Cases from the Society for Case Research

The Society for Case Research publishes three case journals:

1. Journal of Critical Incidents – once per year in December
2. Journal of Case Studies – Two or three issues per year
3. Business Case Journal – One or two issues per year

Access to these journals can be had in the following ways.

Questions? Please contact the Executive Director, Andy Borchers @ execdirector.sfcr@gmail.com.

To review a case for possible adoption (free):

1. Search a library database such as Business Source (Ebsco) for the case.
2. Connect with a content aggregator including Ignited.Global, McGraw Hill Create or Xanadu.edu. All provide access to the case, and some include the teaching note.

To adopt a case for a class (subject to fee):

1. Use a content aggregator including Ignited.Global, McGraw Hill Create or Xanadu.edu to build a course pack for your students.
2. Note that adopters are eligible to receive the teaching note for a case.
